

The 200 kilometre long coastal area in Gästrikland and Hälsingland is named Jungfrukusten - the Maiden Coast after Storjungfrun - the largest island along the Gävleborg coast. It runs from Furuvik in the south to Årskogen in the upper north. Turn off from busy E4 and enjoy Jungfrukustvägen instead and you can drive nearer the sea and experience the small fishing villages. Driving in a slower pace may give you a chance to find your own favourite place. Here you can find relaxation in total silence or be stimulated by a different mixture of attractive nature, interesting culture and uncommon recreation. Enjoy a gourmet dinner in one of the excellent restaurants or a good meal in the smaller coffee-houses found along the coast - often with a thrilling view out over the sea. Hotels, pensions, youth hostels, farmers' homes, cottages and camping grounds offer a rich choice of sleeping quarters. During the day you can spend your time bathing, fishing, golfing, sailing, experiencing nature, enjoying art, crafts and culture, shopping, making finds in auction halls and among locally produced foods and goods. If you take Kustvägen you can continue to Sundsvall on a road nearer the sea.
